Dear Parent/Carer

GCSE Maths

I am writing to provide you with some helpful information regarding your son/ daughter's revision for GCSE Maths. There are a number of websites, revision sessions and past papers which will prove useful in these final few weeks before the first Maths exam.

Please find attached the following:-

- A one page summary of the support available for GCSE Maths. This includes details of revision sessions, useful websites and also where to go to find past papers and mark schemes (via Google Classroom).
- A guide to using the Hegarty Maths website, which contains over 600 quizzes on all topic areas with matching videos to watch for help and support.

We will also be providing your son or daughter with an Easter revision booklet to complete over the two week break, and a paper copy of all of the nine practice papers currently available.

Please encourage your son or daughter to engage with the revision materials available at this important time. If they have any additional questions then they should speak to either me or their Maths teacher.

Finally, I wish your son or daughter the best of luck with all of their exams this summer.

Kind regards

Simon Jackson
